

ReNew Wind Power Secures Rs 1,000 crore Investment from Goldman Sachs

Largest investment in India's renewable energy generation sector

MUMBAI, INDIA, September 26, 2011 -- ReNew Wind Power Pvt. Ltd. ("ReNew Wind Power"), a renewable energy independent power producer (IPP), announced today it has secured an equity investment of up to Rs 1,000 crore from Goldman Sachs (NYSE: GS), a leading global investment bank and active investor in alternative energy/clean technology. This is the largest investment in India's renewable energy generation sector.

ReNew Wind Power was founded by Sumant Sinha, with a vision to help India meet its renewable energy targets. The company has signed business framework agreements with Kenersys GmbH, Regen Powertech Pvt and Suzlon Energy Ltd. to establish and operate wind farms throughout India and will expand its wind portfolio by 200 - 300 megawatts annually. Currently, ReNew Wind Power has several wind projects under development, including a 25 megawatts wind farm in Gujarat and 60 megawatts wind farm in Maharashtra. By 2015 the company aims to reach a 1 gigawatt capacity.

Sumant Sinha, Chairman and CEO, ReNew Wind Power said, "This is a very exciting day for us. This deal reinforces our commitment to developing sustainable energy solutions for India. Goldman Sachs' global experience and network in the alternative/clean technology industry will provide us with additional momentum. Our vision is to be the leading renewable energy generation company in India."

Ankur Sahu, co-Head of private equity in Asia at Goldman Sachs said, "This investment underscores Goldman Sachs' continued commitment to India and support for the country's clean energy needs. ReNew Wind Power stands out as an example of Indian entrepreneurial excellence and we look forward to teaming with the management, both financially and operationally, to help the company become a leader in India's renewable energy sector."

Globally, Goldman Sachs has invested over USD1.5 billion in alternative/clean energy-related companies, including Horizon Wind Energy and Nordex AG. Horizon Wind Energy is a Houston-based, leading wind power company that develops, constructs, owns and operates wind farms throughout North America. Nordex AG is developer and manufacturer of multi-megawatt wind turbines based in Germany.
